ANNUAL SCHOOL

THE YEAR HAS BEEN ONE OF THE MOST PROSPEROUS.

sperintendent R. H. Kinnison Submits His Report of the Wellington Public Schools for the Year Ending June 22.

To the Board of Education, Wellington, Ohio, and pleasure to submit for your consideration the annual report of the schools for the year ending June 22, 1899, making the twentieth annual report under my supervision.

The following table gives, by schools, the total enrollment, average monthly enrollment, average daily attendance, per cent. of daily attendance, and tardiness for the year:

	scrools,	Total Enrollment.	Average Monthly Enrollment,	Average Daily Attendance.	Per cent. of Daily Attendance.	The soil business
HABCDABCC	igh School Grammar Grammar Grammar Grammar Primary Primary and D Primary, South and D Primary, North	46 40 42 52 47	113.0 38.7 38.7 39.1 45.8 19.2 39.0 14.0 42.0 429.5	108.1 30.8 30.0 88.6 44.6 36.4 36.6 39.2 402.0	98.0 97.0 96.0 97.4 97.2 97.2 97.2 97.2	1

The above report as compared with that of last year, is encouraging, showing as it does, 26 more pupils enrolled, an increased average daily attendance of 16.3 and 26 fewer cases of tardiness

The per cent. of daily attendance is one less than that of last year, which s accounted for by sickness incident o vaccination during the winter term.

The year was characterized by good nealth of both teachers and pupils, by faithful and painstaking work, and by good discipline, with little exception, in all the grades. The work in penmanship and drawing under the supervison of Mr. J. J. Rogers, and the music supervised by Mr. A. E. Willett, showed good results at the close of the year. Their first year's work with us gives promise of still better results in heir departments the coming year.

The two new features of Mr. Rogers's work with us, the drawing and vertical enmanship, especially merit comnendation. Our primary grades used the vertical writing during the year, and when it is remembered that the were at the disadvantage of having to unlearn the slant writing while learning the vertical, their work was esgrades will use the vertical system next year, according to its present introduction, and I am not wholly averse

Experience shows that when once arned, pupils write as rapidly as with the slant system, and much more legibly. If nothing is lost in speed and greater legibility is secured, surely the vertical penmanship has come to stay in the public schools. I am free to confess myself a convert to its claims to beauty and legibility. Our first year's work in drawing has also been very satisfactory, and proves the wisdom of the board of education in adding it to our course of study. It would be well I think, if our high school pupils could have as much of the work as do the grammar and primary grades, where half of the time previously given to penmanship, onehalf hour each day, is now given to drawing. Last year in the high school only one-half hour each week was given to the work. I would suggest that more time be given to the study in this grade the coming year, if it can be so arranged as not to crowd out or weaken the other work of the course. The year just closed shows a fine record for our tuition pupils as to numbers enrolled, their faithful atatendance to the end of the year, and I.V. and Leo X., worth at least $600,000 to the large number graduating in the class of '99, six girls and three boys. The enrollment of tuition pupils for the year was 66. Of these, 42 were members of the high school, 21 were enrolled in the grammar grades and 3 in the primary grades.

The tuition by terms was as follows: Fall term, $356; winter term, $276, and spring term, $288, making a total HEART FAILURE of $900 for the year. Of this amount, the largest in the history of the school,

Counting the class of '99, 405 young will act as an people have been graduated from our effective and high school in the twenty-five commencements of its history. Of this number of graduates, the boys are credited with 193 names and the girls energy with 212, surely a record of which any high school of our enrollment may well be proud. Toward the close of the year, we had the pleasure of a visit from Prof. Derby, of the Ohio State University, who spent a day examining our high school work for the purpose of determining whether we could be added to the university's list of aceredited high schools. Graduates from such high schools are, without examination, given ing the univers their home sal

As a result of rof. Derby's examination of our work our high school has the list of schools been placed up thus honored by no university. Such favor is now grall Oberlin, Western Reserve, Wooster University, But itel, Kenyon, Ohio Wesleyan, Cornell University, Ohio University at A ns and the Ohio State University at Columbus. Thus has closed another year of school, the report of which is hereby respectfully report of which to submitted to the board of education, a companied by my sincere apprecia-Gentlemen:—It is again my duty the mangement of their schools. tion of their continued confidence in R. Thomas Gawn, of Lorain, has commenced suit in common pleas court to obtain an injunction restraining the county commissioners from building the new Erie Avenue bridge at Lorain. Good Advice.

A young lady in Medina sends the Gazette the following "eleventh commandment." suggesting that it be printed on large placards and generously posted in the public square for the careful consideration of those who hold down the seats and green grass of that seductive place during a large part of the summer: "To mind one's own business, not in the spirit of the Priest or Levite, who passed by on the other side, instead of assisting the wounded man on the highway, but by refraining from meddling with the affairs of healthy people, by refraining from gossip and scandal and the circulation of idle reports, from interference between friends or in other people's domestic affairs." "The Park Senate" will please take notice.

chain of decayed seaports and idle shipyards—a chain of rotten wharves, tumble-down piers, shipless harbors and old sailors, says H. Phelps Whitmarsh, in Atlantic. All speak eloquently of a great carrying trade, of a great foreign shipping interest, of a great marine power—that was. The foreigner, when he looks at all this for the first time, and realizes what has been lost, stands aghast, and finds himself wondering whether the high estimate set upon the American people as an energetic business nation is not, after all, an unmerited one.

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly.

The striking and important events of the past year have established the verwhelming value of the Thrice-a-Week World to every reader. For an Ilmost nominal sum it has kept its abscribers informed of the progress of all our wars, and, moreover, has reported them as promptly as if it were a daily. With our interests still extending throughout the world, with our troops operating in the Philippines, and the great presidential campaign, too, at hand, its value is furth-r increased. The motto of the Thrice-a-Week World is improvement. It strives each year to be better than it was the year before, and public confidence in it is shown by the fact that it now circulates more than twice as many papers very week as any other newspaper, not a daily, published in America.
